ROTARIANS HEAR TALKS BY SCHOOL HEAD AND RETURNED LOCAL PRIEST

S. J. Ingram Discusses Local School Conditions—Rev. A. J. Gmelch Tells of Motor Trip Through Eastern United States and Canada.

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the Hotel Weston was featured by two talks by S. J. Ingram and Rev. A. J. Gmelch.

Prof. Ingram who is superintendent of the day St. Louis city schools, discussed conditions found in the local schools. He stated that the enrollment of the high school now totals 118, an increase of 38 per cent over last year when the enrollment was 85. Last year there were 48 boys from the eighth through the twelfth grades and this year there are 72. The local high school pupils are augmented by those from the Lakeshore, Waveland, Clement Harbor, Ansley, Logtown and Edwardsville schools who are now sent to day St. Louis. This year the enrollment at the night school which is fostered by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club and the state vocational department, has the largest enrollment since its organization and is doing more diversified teaching.

Rev. Father Gmelch, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, returned last week-end from a month's motor trip made in company with Rev. Wm. J. Leach of Pass Christian and Rev. T. J. Carey of Clarksdale, told of his trip through the northward along the Atlantic Coast into Maine and Canada visiting Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Niagara Falls, and returning to New York came south over the Shenandoah Valley route. Stops were made made at all points of interest including the Endless Carners of Virginia. Rev. Gmelch reports the roads fine "except in Mississippi," and the weather fine throughout the trip.

COUNTY TEACHERS MEETING

B. Frank Brown, Superintendent Gulfport Schools
Addresses Hancock
Body

B. Frank Brown, superintendent of the Gulfport city schools, was the speaker before the Hancock county Teachers Association at the October meeting held at the Bay St. Louis Central High school, Saturday, October 3. He asked three questions: What do you want? Who are you? and What are you? and answered them from the standpoint of the teacher. In the first question he stressed the value of wanting the right things, pointing out that if a teacher desired to be a good teacher he or she must pay the price with definite study and application and infinite preparation. The reward for this work of preparation was illustrated as realized joys. Answering the query, who are you, he stressed the professional standing of a teacher, from the point of view of training, results and rating among other teachers and heads of schools. What do you think of yourselves, can you live alone and be happy, are you sufficiently equipped to satisfy yourself, were additional thoughts suggested in the final question.

Prof. Brown was introduced by D. J. Everett, county superintendent of education.

The attendance at the meeting was excellent with almost all teachers of the county present. Dr. Peterson of the State Teachers College made an announcement relative to the extension courses this year.

At the group meetings two papers were presented, Miss Lois Quinn of Bay St. Louis discussing Teaching Reading to the elementary group, and Mrs. Doby of Kiln discussing before the primary group Teaching Reading to Beginners.

The November meeting will be devoted to Parent-Teachers Association work.

DECISION IN FAVOR ED KELLAR

Circuit Court Refuses Petition to Place Opponents Name on Ballot

T. Ed Kellar of Hancock county is eligible to serve as sheriff of Hancock county according to a decision handed down Wednesday afternoon by Judge W. A. White circuit judge at a hearing held in Gulfport. Mr. Kellar was given the majority vote by Hancock county voters at the second Democratic primary in August for the nomination of sheriff of the county. His nomination was challenged by his opponent alleging that Kellar had failed to pay certain city taxes.

On petition from his opponent to have the name of Kellar stricken from the ballot and the name of Claud Monti, opponent, placed instead, the county Democratic executive committee and the county election commission before which the petition was heard, each rejected the petition and declared Kellar the nominee.

A mandamus petition in the circuit court resulted in the hearing Wednesday. Judge White rejected the petition stating that he based his decision on the opinion handed down by Justice of the State Supreme Court Etheridge two years ago in a parallel contest in Hancock county. Judge White stated that if this case should go to the supreme court the court could not reverse his decision without reversing itself, as determined by the opinion two years ago.

OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A TOWN is always known by its success, character of its people and largely by its organizations and what they represent.

Bay St. Louis and Hancock county are no exception and in this connection we need only refer to our Chamber of Commerce, a clearing house for every public endeavor for the public good, working in and out of season for the most good for the most people, and with no personal gain or selfish aim for any one individual.

Every city on the Mississippi Gulf Coast has its Chamber of Commerce and much of Biloxi's success and expansion has been brought about through the instrumentality of this organization—as well as through the activities of its individual members.

Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce from time to time has already accomplished much, it has been a boost to the town and a medium for the promotion and realization of much that has already been accomplished. In future it will even do more. With the return of normal conditions it will function to advantage.

It behooves not only every member to renew his membership but to exert every influence to get a new member. Prompt or early remittance of dues will aid considerably in order to better facilitate the work of further building up Hancock county and Bay St. Louis.

The Chamber of Commerce has the official endorsement of both the Board of Supervisors and Board of City Commissioners. Will it have yours, Mr. Good Citizen?

LIFE INSURANCE GAINS.

FEW people realize the tremendous amount of life insurance in effect in the United States. The Department of Commerce reports that the total amount represented by outstanding policies was increased by more than a billion dollars during the first six months of 1931.

Notwithstanding the depression life insurance protection made a substantial gain during these six months. It is estimated that disbursements to policy holders and beneficiaries during the same period amounted to at least a billion dollars. This comes, of course, as a result of the thrift and investment of citizens in this form of protection in previous years.

As far as possible, every citizen should try to carry some insurance. It would be well, however, if some method could be found to provide this insurance at a lower cost, as, for example, the savings-bank-insurance plan working so successfully in Massachusetts. Every encouragement should be given to citizens to protect their dependents in the case of premature death and society in general is interested, because, otherwise, these dependents will constitute charges on society for their care.

Men do almost anything except admit that their wives are right.

Never try to make the impression that you are infallible; every one knows better.

Why is it that the average son thinks any other man has more sense than "father"?

Sir Thomas Lipton left most of his $3,885,000 to charity. He always was a real sport.

The allies, who cooperated in knocking out Germany, are now snarling over putting her on her feet.

Some swains are now looking for some cause to break-up with their girl friends until after the Christmas season passes.

It took Pangborn and Herndon a long time to get going but when they left Japan they showed us how to fly across the Pacific.

When it is time to put money in the collection plate during what is called a financial crisis one meets an acid test for religion.

One trouble with half the speeches delivered on all subjects is that the speaker has been too lazy to study the problem he solves so easily.

The Army and Navy will play a football game for charity in December. Next year, this time, somebody will have to stage a benefit for them.

There isn't any use to advertise when you have more business than you can attend to. Now, under present conditions, we leave it to your judgement.

If you think unemployment problems in our large cities are over-exaggerated you ought to read of the $100,000 contributions being made to the relief funds.

The Boston Herald, hearing of a lamb without wool, thinks that if some wizard could develop some bald headed cotton textile over-production would solve itself.

In 1929 the 102,045 individuals with incomes over $25,000 a year paid 82 per cent of the total income tax of $991,038,787. That's one good thing about the income tax.

Generally we are inclined to line-up with what labor wants but this every-employer-to-hire two more workers as a solution of the unemployment problem makes us wonder who will eventually solve the no-employer crisis.

NO MAGIC WAND.

WE like to think that the days of ignorant superstitions have passed but have some doubts when we realize how many people are swindled and cheated each year by fraudulent enterprises. Solicitor Donnelly of the Post Office Department says:

"It is not extravagant to say that a million gullible Americans yearly lose money and property in mail fraud schemes and that more than a billion dollars are so lost. The public snaps up hundreds of obviously fraudulent schemes in hope of getting rich quickly and without work. As fast as the Department issues fraud orders closing the mails to fraudulent concerns and individuals, new persons and organizations spring up to take their places.

"Fraud orders are issued daily for hundreds of different 'rackets.' The principal offenders are those operating medical, oil stock selling, and so-called 'work-at-home' schemes by mail. Activities of concerns selling worthless oil stock call for numerous investigations by the Department, and issuance of orders closing the mails to many such promoters and concerns. The pernicious trade in nostrums and worthless alleged curative devices continues, and during the last year a considerable number of promoters and concerns operating such schemes were denied use of the mails.

"The efforts of the Department in curbing these activities have undoubtedly resulted in saving millions of dollars to the small investor. If the American public would realize the illegitimacy, of such enterprises, and refrain from subscribing to fraudulent schemes, it would save millions of dollars each year, and greatly simplify the Department's task of enforcing postal laws forbidding that mails be used for fraudulent enterprises."

WHAT BIG BUSINESS WANTS.

KEEP the government out of business," is a cry that is becoming fainter throughout the land as big financial institutions, insurance companies and industrial corporations seek succor from the plight in which they find themselves.

There are those of us who recall what manner of fun was made of the idea that the government could help the farmer, or that the mass of the people had any right to expect benefits, or even protection, from the government. There were those who said: "let business alone, it will save the nation." They realize their mistake.

Truth of the matter, big business does not want the government out of business. What it wants is a free hand to take advantage of its power and to be allowed to milk the consumers of whatever stray bits of change they may happen to have left. Big business wants government subsidies, protection for rates, privileges, monopolies and guaranteed returns for investments. That's what the big boys expect from their government.

We don't know what others may think about the question but as for this newspaper it seems to be time for the government to do a little thinking about the small man, who is raising a family, and see that he and his get a square deal when they spend their money in a market that they cannot influence.

ROOM FOR SAVING.

IN 1930, for the first time in the history of the nation, the Census Bureau sought to obtain some definite data in regard to the distribution of various products. According to the figures obtained the total mercantile business, including retailing and wholesaling amounted to $123,000,000,000.

In commenting upon the results thus obtained Dr. Julius Klein says: "The first surprise sprung upon all of us by this huge, nation-wide tabulation was the unnecessary costs and wastes in our distribution system are not merely eight or ten billions annually as some of us had supposed. They are probably very much more. They may amount to as much as $400 to $500 annually for each of the 25,000,000 families in the United States. Just think of what you could do with that in terms of new carpets, new radios, a new car, and new furniture! And what it would mean in jobs! It would put on the payroll millions of workmen—enough to solve our whole unemployment problem. Is not this worth striving for?"

The costs of distribution represent an item which can be reduced considerably in the interest both of the producer and consumer. It is in this part of the costs that the attention of business men is being directed in order that unnecessary wastes and duplications may be avoided.

THE JOYFUL HARVEST.

The harvest season has arrived and farmers everywhere are reaping and gathering their crops. Ordinarily, it is a time of rejoicing over bountiful yields, of thanksgiving for the bounties of nature and gratitude for the food for a coming year.

The fall of 1931 finds our farmers facing no such joyful harvest. Their crops have yielded abundantly but where bumper harvests should bring rejoicing one finds sorrowing tillers of the soil bemoaning the prices that mean little or nothing for a season of hard work.

However, farmers of Hancock County have taken it on the chin before. They have fought back and have, in many cases, won the fight. Let us resolve that the lessons of this year will not be lost and let farmers everywhere prepare to organize themselves in order to reap the economic advantages that come to those who pull together.

BROTHERS.

One reads in the press of a shooting affray between two brothers in Alabama, who used guns to settle a quarrel over the division of property left them by their father.

Such incidents are amazing, but reflect the tempers of men who become determined to have their own way. Naturally, the Sea Coast Echo knows nothing much about these two men but one is moved to wonder what the father thinks, if he knows, of the trouble between his boys.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, Ill., October 15.—Radios in Bay St. Louis were tuned into the Chicago station which broadcasted the plays in the Notre Dame Northwestern football game Saturday. I could not get to the game, so did not learn of the results as soon as Bay St. Louis fans, so wonderful are the advances of science. But Saturday night as I read the newspapers, I realized that the day had been full of thrills for my friends of the Echo family. Every paragraph written about the game began with the name of Marchmont Schwartz! "Schwartz kicked. . . Schwartz advanced the ball. . . Schwartz recovered a fumble, etc." The spirit of Notre Dame strengthened the young men as they battled the strongest team Northwestern ever had. And part and parcel of the spirit of Notre Dame was the spirit of Bay St. Louis in the person of its renowned son, Marchmont Schwartz.

And the spirit of Bay St. Louis marches on in other places. It was made manifest in the recent Chamber of Commerce election at which eight new directors were chosen for that body. How representative of the city they are! Mrs. E. J. Leonard, civic leader and noted club woman, takes her seat alongside of Emilio Cue, president of the Board of Supervisors, thus bringing both public and fraternal representation to the new board. The federal government is represented in the person of its local postmaster, Mr. Glover. Brother Peter adds to the board of spirit of enlightened and modern education. The great railroad interests will be heard through Mr. Crawford L. & N. official. Mr. Arceneaux, Mr. Engman and Mr. McDonald will speak for commerce and banking. All eight, together with the directors who hold over, will work heartily for the best interest of everyone in Bay St. Louis.

Already President of the Rotary Club, President of the Peoples Building and Loan Association, and Vice President of the Merchants Bank & Trust Company, besides being publisher of one of the most outstanding weekly newspapers in America, Chas. G. Moreau is called upon to assume additional duties. He has been elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce, last week's paper informs me. That he will give of his time and energy as already known before his election. Working for the public welfare is a pleasure to such men as Mr. Moreau. As long as health permits, they cheerfully and unstintingly give their service.

But from a news item telling of a speech made before the Hot Springs Rotary, as well as from a poem which humorously told of the experiences of a "bachelor" in the hot springs, we learn that Mr. Moreau finds it expedient to take a month's rest. He will return fully recuperated, I hope, so that his month's absence will bring benefits to both himself and the city he loves so well. Incidentally, I am led to the belief that our editor is one who will take some of the less pleasant things of life with a smile. Whether he wrote the poem published last week I know not, but I'm pretty sure that he was the "contributor." The strong men of the world smile in the face of adversity.

In New Orleans, says last week's paper, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kohler had been further brightened by the arrival of Claude II. As he coos and grows in his pretty crib the little fellow is giving new meanings to sounds. But adult words and phrases are also taking on new meanings. "Depression" once was the name of a space between two heights. Now what does it mean? Don't answer too loud, for such language might be considered unbecoming. And what does "moratorium" mean? Young Mr. Kohler knows as much about that as I do. Who knows what meanings the words and phrases of our day will have when the next citizen arrives at the age at which he is privileged to cast a ballot?

Monday was Columbus Day, and last week's Echo further reminded us of the great explorer, with an item which told of a contemplated repetition of his great feat. A group of Spaniards will leave their native land to duplicate the achievement of Columbus. That they will have exactly the same equipment as was used in the famous voyage of 1492 makes the expedition of more than passing interest. The modern Spaniards cannot find their feat as dangerous as the one it is imitating, for the oceans are filled with other vessels which are likely to bring aid in case of distress. Nevertheless, when the imitating cruise is completed, those who made it will be the better able to tell why in these days of great inventions and perilous exploits we still pay honor to the memory of Christopher Columbus.

Curiosity Kills a Lot Of Useful Time

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

There is a saying somewhere that "Curiosity killed the cat." Perhaps it sometimes kills humans as well. But moreover the plain, everyday curiosity that is a part of most humans just kills a lot of useful time, it seems.

For instance, we leave the office on an assignment to the Mark-Flaga regions, a fairly good walking distance away. Before reaching the main street, we meet up with Bill Jones, a fellow toiler. After a brief conversation comprised mostly of questions hurled back and forth we again set forth.

Many times we have passed a bank that has recently closed its doors. However, the temptation to peek into the now deserted bank office must be satisfied. . . . Down the street a clothing store has placed a free weighing scale before its entrance. Perhaps one cannot explain why the poundage of a total stranger should be of interest, but fellow "nosies," too, will be found watching the weight indicator as others step upon the scale.

A street fakir or bizarre medicine show in some vacant store building or lot is a charmed lure to the average citizen. And a stalled or wrecked automobile in traffic is always followed by a traffic tie up because of curious onlookers.

The scene of any downtown construction job is certain to attract flocks of onlookers, who will stand by fascinated even though there may be personal tasks of importance to perform.

At a traffic crossing there is a cop on duty from another station. Wonder what could be the matter with big Tim? Maybe he was promoted, or could be on the carpet?—More curiosity.

This late October morning is still sultry regardless of continued promises of a wintry "norther" by the weather man that have failed to materialize. In front of a popular drug store now. . . . In last night's paper this store advertised a big, new, drink selling for a dime. . . . Wonder what it tastes like? In we go to satisfy both thirst and curiosity.

A glance at a clock nearby reveals that the hour is fast approaching a certain newspaper's deadline, and news copy must be on the city editor's desk mure pronto, or this stern gent will have HIS curiosity aroused concerning whys and wherefores. So we must grit our teeth and hurry past all the remaining tempting distractions to get back to the daily grind. . . . But its a hard task mates. Check up on yourself some day as you wander about Bay St. Louis and decide whether or not you are eligible for membership in the curiosity club.

"Anchors Aweigh" Is Favorite Song of New York Governor

Warm Springs, Ga., Oct. 12.—The stirring strains of "Anchors Aweigh" are filling the air wherever goes Governor Franklin Roosevelt of New York, and it is considered likely it may be heard from coast to coast as an official campaign composition if the governor becomes the 1932 Democratic presidential nominee.

The song is one of the governor's favorites and it links him with his war days when he was assistant secretary of the navy, and with his hobby, which is the collection of ship models and ship pictures.

INDIGESTION

"My work is confining, and often I eat hurriedly, causing me to have indigestion. Gas will form and I will smother and have pains in my chest.

"I had to be careful what I ate, but after someone had recommended Black-Draught and I found a small pinch after meals was so helpful, I soon was eating anything I wanted.

"Now when I feel the least smothering or uncomfortable bloating, I take a pinch of Black-Draught and get relief."

"Some Railroad Facts"

(An Editorial Reprinted by Permission From The South Bend News-Times.)

TAXES PAID BY HIGHWAY FREIGHT
CARRIERS—

Go Where?

TAXES PAID BY RAILROADS—

Where Do
They Go?

Taxes paid by highway freight carriers in the form of gasoline excises and license fees are expended chiefly for what?

For maintaining the highways over which these freight carriers pass and for constructing new ones.

Taxes paid by the railroads—they average nearly $1,600 yearly for every mile of track—go for what? Maintenance of the railroad lines? Not at all. Maintenance of the governments that maintain highway freight lines for competition with the railroads.

Maintaining a mile of railroad for a year costs about $3,500. Who pays that? The taxpayers? Oh, no; the taxpayers pay for maintaining the roadbed for the motor trucks; the railroads pay for their own maintenance and also for a share of the maintenance of their competitors.

Part of the revenue of the railroads comes from hauling the mails. The Federal Government is subsidizing a competitive form of mail transport, the airmail, by paying 105 times as much per pound as it pays the railroads.

Why should anybody care whether the people kill the railroads by supporting fine highways for freight transport and restructuring the railroads in their operations, preventing them from operating on the highways?

Because it is not good for the people to have railroads in a perilous financial position and likely to default on their bonds. But some one answers, few people own railroad bonds. Quite true; but the life insurance companies own them, and many people have bought life insurance policies and expect the companies to be ready to pay death claims in full and to meet cash surrender and loan demands.

Many savings banks, especially the large eastern mutuals, are heavy investors in railroad securities.

Federal state aid for roads at the rate of $125,000,000 a year comes out of the pockets of the taxpayers, much of it from the railroads; and is used for building up a competitor to the railroad—the highway freight and passenger line.

Is the whole thing unfair and dangerous? It is unfair and economically perilous. It is suicidal. Let it alone a few years, and the railroads will be whipped.

Can anything be done? Certainly something can be done. That is what we have a Congress for, and a President to advise and suggest.

The Management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad has been impressed with the clear statements contained in the above reproduced editorial concerning the operation of American Railroads. It hopes that every reader of this newspaper, every law maker, and every newspaper editor will read this editorial carefully and digest the facts contained therein.

Warren-Easton Puts Skids Under Rock-A-Chaws—Pebbles Win Two Games.

Warren-Easton High School of New Orleans put the skids under the Rock-A-Chaws three times last Friday night at Loyola stadium, and when the lights were almost dimmed one could still read the score 19 to 0.

Punting, or rather, the lack of it was one contributing cause to the defeat. But, above the kicking were the numerous fumbles. Every one in the backfield had a turn to lose the ball by the "butter-finger" route. Twice in the first half these fumbles were most costly. The first on our one yard line gave a touchdown and the extra point was kicked by Frost. The second touchdown came the latter part of the second quarter when Ducass fumbled on the five yard line and its recovery by Warren-Easton enabled them to carry it across after three trials.

The second half started as if the Rocks were out to do business, but again fumbling was their downfall. No scoring was done in this quarter. In the last few minutes of the last quarter, Warren-Easton intercepted a pass on our twenty-five yard line; after two trials at our line the ball was sneaked around end for the third and last touchdown.

Defensively, the Rocks played a great game. Verlender, Loch Daigle, Linam, Hobbs and Weatherford with his substitute Reine played a great game in keeping the plunging backs of the New Orleans boys.

While the Rocks were going down to defeat at New Orleans, the Springfield High School team was playing a scoreless tie with Biloxi at Biloxi. The boys from Mobile will be our next foes. They are coming here Sunday and they mean to win at least one game from the Coast.

They boast of a line that from tackle to tackle weighs over two hundred pounds while the end's are taken care of by two youngsters who tip the scale at one hundred and seventy. Their backfield too, is heavy and speedy.

This will be the first time the High School plays here. We are going to be very nice to them, but they cannot take away the long end of the score. We want everyone out Sunday to root, root and root some more.

There is no reason in the world why the visitors should not bear the brunt of that defeat last Friday. We have the team that can do it; we have the ROOTERS who can help them along. Let's get together and put this game away on the safe side.

The officials for the game will be Halligan (Mass. Tech. referee; Moore (Miss. Coll.) umpire; Hair (La. Coll.) headlinesman.

PEBBLES WIN 49-25 AND 26-20

Last week the Pebbles had a gala week as far as winning games was concerned. Tuesday they took the strong team from the Webb School into camp and won by the score of 49-25. The Webb boys played a whale of a game as this was their first game of the season. The Pebbles won the game because of their accurate passing. Six of their touchdowns were the result of the aerial attack they launched.

Saturday the Pebbles took advantage of the holiday and played a group of boys much larger than themselves. The Pebbles got off to an early lead and kept the lead all through the game. Big Boy Colson could hardly be stopped as he plunged the line for gain after gain. Triple reverse plays was the saving feature for the Pebbles.

The lineup for Saturday's game was:
Pebbles: W. Gordon, L. E.; I. Defilice, L. T.; J. Glover, L. G.; T. A. Quintini, C.; W. Maxwell, R. G.; W. Ross, R. T.; B. Lacoste, R. E.; O. Odom, L. H.; R. Herbes, R. H.; D. Glover, Q.; J. Henry, (C).

Mixed Up: H. Bopp, L. E.; R. Hamner, L. T.; R. Johnson, L. G.; W. Price, C.; W. Simpson, R. E.; R. Hamner, R. T.; W. Walsh, R. E.; R. Colson (C); L. H.; A. Becker, R. H.; R. Benvenuti, Q.; F. Ferchaud, F.

Scoring touchdowns, Henry 2; Derbes 2—Pebbles. Colson 3—Mixed Up team. Points after touchdowns, Derbes, T. A. Quintini, Colson 2.

Sunday afternoon the Pebbles bagged another victory when they defeated a team from the Stanislaus Day School by the score of 19-6. Little Fred Fayard, captain and signal caller for the Tiny Rocks played stellar ball for the victors. E. J. Smith and R. Rugan were also at their best. For the losers young L. Johnston and Perrie were the "outstanding" players.

BAY HIGH LOSES FIRST GAME IN FOUR YEARS LAST FRIDAY

Kiln Team Much Improved; Takes Advantage of Tigers' Weaknesses.

By James Hayes

Bay Hi lost its first class "B" football game in four years, when it was defeated by a much improved Kiln Hi team last Friday by the score of 20-0. The Kiln Wildcats had little trouble in penetrating the Tiger line, and took advantage of this weakness when ever they possessed the ball. During the entire game the Wildcats attempted only four end runs, and used but one pass, which was incomplete. While the Tigers showed up better in this art than in previous games by completing 6 out of 8 throws.

Carl Coward kicked off for Bay Hi, to Kiln's 10 yard line where the receiver was tackled practically on the spot. On the next play the wildcats advanced the ball 4 yards thru the line and then 12 yards for a first down. The next plunge was for 2 yards followed by one for 6 yards and another for 8 yards, putting the oval on the 42 yard line for Kiln's second first down. The next play was a line huck for 10 yards and another following for only 2 yards. Kiln then advanced the ball eight yards by an end run but was penalized 5 yards on the next play for being offside. This was made up for by 2 line smashes which called for nine yards. On the next play a wildcat circled end and was clear for a touchdown but was overtaken on the 20 yard line by Stassi, a Bay Hi halfback. Six line plunges placed the ball on the Tiger's one foot line, last down, as the first quarter ended. Score: 0-0.

The first play of the second quarter saw Garriga of Kiln score a touchdown and Harrel realize the extra point. The Wildcats kicked to Bay High's 10 yard line and Laurent netted four yards and Stassi carried a yard from the line. Then it was that Laurent tossed Loicano a pass for 17 yards. Stassi gained five off and Kiln was penalized 20 yards. Stassi trimmed the end for 10 yards more and in tow tries, Laurent advanced the ball two yards around end. A Kiln tackler nailed Loicano to a nine yard loss and Laurent threw a pass to Larroux on the one yard line. Laurent fumbled and Larroux stepped out of bounds to catch the pass. An attempt at the line failed so the ball went over on downs. Kiln advanced the ball 10 yards in four line plays, and another netted five, placing the pigskin on the middle line. An end run gave the Wildcats 15 yards and a 5 yard penalty but the ball on Bay High's 40 yard line. A six yard gain followed by a 3 yard gain and a fumble, which was scooped up by Larroux, enabled the Tigers to get possession of the ball on their own 48 yard line in the proceeding play they lost a yard on an attempted end run. Laurent passed to the 50 yard line where the ball was intercepted by Garriga, of Kiln, who ran for a touchdown. The try for extra point was good. The Wildcat's kickoff was stopped on the 35 yard line and retracted 5 yards by Larroux. A two yard loss was suffered by Smith on an end run and a four yard gain was accomplished by Loicano before the quarter ended. Score: Kiln 14 Bay Hi 0.

Loicano punted to Kiln's 40 yard line and a Wildcat returned it 15 yards. The next play through the line gained 2 yards but was followed by a 4 yard loss and an incomplete pass, so they were forced to kick to Bay High's 10 yard line. Laurent received it and took 16 yards, but Stassi on the next play was caught behind the line for an 8 yard loss and Loicano kicked to the 50 yard line. The ball was run back to the 26 yard mark and in five plays Kiln made its last touchdown. The kickoff by Kiln was caught on the 20 yard line by Loicano and taken back 20 yards. Two incomplete passes and a five yard penalty caused Lo-

COURT ORDERS FEE TO BE PAID TO FRANK GATES, ARCHITECT

Mississippi Building Body's Action Upheld by Hinds Jurymen

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 13.—The Mississippi Building Commission was ordered by a circuit court verdict Monday to pay Frank P. Gates, Jackson, a $12,000 fee as architect on the $1,600,000 building program at University of Mississippi.

Payment of the fee to Gates was taken up at several meetings of the commission, but each time either defeated or laid aside for lack of a quorum. At a recent meeting the matter was brought up when four members of the seven-member body were present. John W. Faulkner, Oxford, who opposed payment, walked out of the meeting just as the matter was brought up for a vote, in order to break a quorum.

Whereas, default has been made in the performance of the commissions of the said deed of trust, and the Edwards Hines Yellow Pine Trustees has declared the entire debt fully due and payable, and default remaining, the said Edwards Hines Yellow Pine Trustees has requested me as trustee to foreclose the deed of trust and make sale of the lands therein conveyed.

Therefore, notice is hereby given that I, T. W. Davis, the undersigned trustee, will, on

THE DEPRESSION DOLLAR.

A dollar today is worth approximately the value of three dollars in 1919. Look over the comparative prices on these basic commodities. Gingham per yard in 1919—50c. Gingham per yard today—15c.

In other words a dollar today will buy as much gingham as $3.33 would have bought during the peak of prosperity.

Overalls that cost you $3.00 in 1919 today sell for $1.25. Standard work shirts that sold for $2.50 in 1919 today bring 75c; $2.50 silk hosiery now sells for 98c per pair. In 1919 outing sold for 50c per yard. Today it is 15c. The same is true of percale.

A 24-lb. sack of flour sold for $1.61. The same flour today retails for 65c. Rice retailed at 16 1/2 cents during the last period of prosperity. Today it sells for 4 1/4c per pound.

Sugar brought 11c per pound in 1919. Today it will cost you 5 1/2c. An 8 pound bucket of compound lard today sells for 90c, sold for $2.80 during 1919. The 24 lb. sack of meal will cost you 60c today. You paid $1.33 for the same kind of meal in 1919.

Dollars are not as plentiful as heretofore. But the dollars we do have are worth many times of the dollar of a more prosperous day.

One thing is true; our "depression" dollars are worth about three dollars of the former "prosperity" dollars. And the "depression" dollar of today will shrink as commodities go up in price. It may seem good business to hoard money now. But hoarded dollars today will become more valuable if invested in property than in cash.

It seems to us that in reality it is good business to spend. If you had real estate that was doomed to fall in value, you would "unload." Well, your dollars will shrink in value as the months pass by.—McComb Enterprise.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

Sodality Meeting Postponed Seniors Considering Going Into Mourning.

Due to the fact that the football team was away last Saturday we had no Sodality meeting, not that the football team as a team was not here, but the majority of our officers happen also to be members of the football squad.

This Saturday, the Eucharistic Committee will be in charge held along by Ducasas and his entertainers. Much is looked forward to from this particular individual. Duke always seems to have something up his sleeve, figuratively and literally. I am sure every one will enjoy hearing him and none should miss this treat.

All committees seem to be functioning well. Every one seems to be giving heartily to all of the various chairmen and this undoubtedly lends interest to the meetings held each Saturday.

The fact that Duke has somewhat of a game leg due to his trying to get away too many times last Friday will not prevent him taking the role of chief entertainer and kokuspecus artist at our next meeting.

NOTICE.

The Seniors of S. S. C. are about to go into mourning—not plain, ordinary mourning; but deep, black, old-fashioned mourning. The casual observer will wonder why. Ah! That is a long story.

The students, or rather the inmates, of our sister institution have pledged themselves most solemnly to have none of us. 'Tis sad but true. They have formed a society which forbids them to cast anything but the most withering of glances in the direction of Stanislaus. And for this reason the S. S. C. Seniors mourn.

Undoubtedly our worthy contemporaries are laboring under a false impression; for, had they been properly informed, this organization would have been rightly called the "Self Defense Club." They did not have to swear themselves away from our companionship, for companionship there was none. They could not take away from us the pleasure of their company, for it has never been a pleasure. They have merely made it no longer necessary for us to tolerate them.

And therefore the Seniors mourn—with a big "Bronx cheer."

NINTH GRADE NEWS.

October 5. We bet Buck Quintini will be one to like his new Arithmetic teacher, Prof. George Toca. No answers to any questions will be given. We heard yesterday, by the way, that Buck is captain and quarterback of the third team. The bulletin board showed the Ninth grades on top in Masses and visits for last week. Brother Harold says his tenth grade team is the best in ages. Next Thursday will be the test day. Peter Oehm was very lively in class yesterday. Charlie Flint is the mission man in the Ninth grades and he is doing great work.

October 6. McGee and Schneckenburger found each other to be very funny today. Vail was just it this evening during history—he knew everybody else's question but his own. Gus Anthony says that penmanship is the easiest thing going now.

October 8. Everybody has his guess for to-night's game on the board. We hope at least one will be right as they all have the Rock-A-Chaws winning over Easton. John Nix took a day off today as far as penmanship was concerned. Billy App and Carlos Garcia preferred to work at the art of writing from 3 to 3:30. Otis Dillon certainly has been working hard lately. He hates to hear 71 on a Monday morning.

October 12. We heard our monthly averages today. The five leaders were P. Stakelum, W. Quinn, W. Price, P. Oehm and W. App. Willie Cunningham was late for school today but he started walking from English Lookout at 5 o'clock. He had missed the train. That's what we call "Loving School." Percy Stakelum, Billy App and "Dimples" Sandoz starred for the Juniors in their game with Bay High yesterday.

WE WONDER WHY?

Motty is so energetic?
Cascio is called "Scowling Vince"?
J. Bourgeois is called "John Dear"?
Berlander has such a bad memory?
Wellburne is so anxious to take calculations?
Parker wants to fight so much and doesn't?
Talley is such an authority on anything?
Bruzeau has a new pair of suspenders?
Reaux is so dressed up lately?
Libberday didn't want to come out of the water Monday eve?
"Texas" is such a perfect scholar.
Castro's hair is growing?
Lock was so glad that Sharkey won?
A few certain Juniors and Seniors are called "cake eaters"?
Dees and Breau have so much in common?
Weatherford didn't get that certain letter?
Richarme goes riding every Thursday and Sunday?
Ty Cobb just won't be his age?
Castro and Alamo aren't so tough lately?
An old Senior talking in his sleep said, "I hate her but I love her."

RAILROAD BEATEN AS GROUP FAVORS' FOOTE-EVANS BILL

Dock Facilities Measure Reported Favorably by Committee

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 13.—Over the protest of representatives of the Illinois Central railroad system, the House committee on municipalities this afternoon again reported out favorably the Foote-Evans bill giving the city authorities of Gulfport the right to take over the railroad company's dock facilities at that port under eminent domain proceedings, and to issue bonds with which to erect warehouses and other dock facilities.

The measure, which passed the Senate last week and first received a favorable report by the House committee, will be called up for final passage by Chairman Snider tomorrow if he can obtain the floor, he declared tonight. The bill had been recommended for a hearing at the request of railroad authorities.

Railroad Cites Loss

George May, Jackson attorney, and E. P. Russell, general agent of the Illinois Central, appeared for the railroad and the port of Gulfport was represented by Mayor Milner, Lee Clark, its port director and Representative Houston. Evans of Gulfport, co-author of the measure. The railroad spokesman declared that the Illinois Central, since its acquisition of the Gulf and Ship Island railroad five years ago, had operated the newly acquired property at the heavy loss of $4,000,000. Gulfport's dock facilities was its most valuable concession, it was contended, and objection was made to the efforts "to cloud its title" by permitting competitors at the port of entry—other common carriers and truck lines, to use the facilities there.

Rather than the drastic legislation, the railroad company asked permission to "negotiate" with Gulfport authorities over the needs of that port. Facilities of Gulfport have been advertised to the world for business, said the railroad spokesman.

Warehouses Needed

Gulfport's spokesman argued, however, that when the Illinois Central took over the property they voluntarily offered to keep pace with the needs and development of Gulfport. Their performance in compliance with this offer had been extremely slow, it was charged.

It was admitted that the railroad had "the finest facilities for handling lumber anywhere in the world," but there was none to be handled. Other commodities passing through the port are stored in box cars for lack of warehouse and wharf facilities.

Contention was made that the Illinois Central was communicated with last April demanding warehouses, and a reply to the letter was not received until October 3 when the railroad offered to "negotiate."

The Illinois Central would be the highest beneficiary in the development of Gulfport authorities contended, in the increase of freight movements through the port, the Gulfport delegation contended.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

"HANDY AUNTIE"—BIG SUCCESS.

The boarders responsible for the entertainment given at the S. J. A. Memorial Hall last Thursday are to be congratulated for the big success they made of it.

The comedy "Handy Auntie" was enjoyed by all. Each girl in the play took her part off admirably and the individual numbers as well as the opening duet were heartily applauded. The evening's entertainment netted more than thirty-dollars for the gymnasium debt fund. The experiment was a delightful one for the boarders who tried it and they expect to be given the chance to repeat it sometime soon.

PROGRAM FOR COLUMBUS DAY.

Monday last proved an exception to the "blue Monday" rule, for in honor of the discoverer of our country, we were granted a half holiday.

At a quarter of twelve, the students assembled in the "gym" where in prose and verse, they sang the praise of the great man to whose perseverance and courage we owe the beautiful land which is ours today. Each class contributed a number in honor of Columbus to the program. The song "Columbus" was sung and after the flag had been saluted in concert by the assembled student body, classes were dismissed for the remainder of the day.

BOARDERS PICNIC ACROSS THE BAY.

"Get your bathing suits, and put on your walking shoes, we're going to hike across the bridge" were the directions given to the boarders after "dinner last Monday." The announcement was made enthusiastically by the majority, a few of the lazier ones among us were not so elated at the thought of that two mile walk. However all were delighted that they had been induced to go, for when at five-thirty that afternoon the girls piled out of the truck which had been sent to take them back to the Academy all without exception agreed that "they had had a wonderful time." The bathing on the other side of the Bay had proven grand, the sandwiches "delicious," and the truck ride home all that was needed to complete a perfect afternoon.

ATHLETIC MEET.

On Wednesday, October 7 at 3 o'clock an Athletic meeting was held. A great majority of the high school girls were present. Our coach, Miss Mary Perkins, was much pleased to see that almost everyone is taking an active interest in sports this year.

Nicola St. Angelo, a member of the first team for the past three years, was elected captain, by a great majority. We are certain that "Captain Nick" our star guard, will lead her team on to victory.

The members of our first team graduated last year and Carrie Kennen, running-center, has not yet returned to school, due to serious illness. Nevertheless, we feel sure that with good material coming up from the grades and with last year's veterans on the job the "Gold J" team of 1932 will prove as good if not better than the teams of former years.

ATTENTION! THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES.
The Palmer Method Progress hours for the past week were merited by Gertrude Mont, Elsie Mae Capderon, Bobbie Arceneaux and Sarah Russo.

If your memory is good you will notice several familiar names missing from the list. However the owners of the missing names expect to stage a comeback next week, while the others whose names have not yet appeared on the list, are determined that it won't be long now before they are seen there.

The fourth grade spelling match speeds out R i t a B o p p as holding down first place, with I d a Rose Tudury in second place, and D o t Hammer coming in for the third place.

Alas! The third grade is steeped in mourning. No student honors of the match each girl failed to stand the test—now they are all sitting in a corner biding their time to come forth with renewed strength, vigor next week—they're going to show the world they can't be licked! Something new is springing up around these two classes, too, but you can't guess that it is? No, not grasshopper! It's a new scheme here it is: Teacher gives out numbers to be multiplied. The swiftest multipliers get their names in the paper. See? No, you don't. Well, just wait until next week.

SODALITY NEWS.

The usual Thursday meeting of the Children of Mary was spent this week in reciting the Little office of the Blessed Virgin. The girls assembled in church and kneeling before the statue of Our Lady they chanted their praise in the beautiful words of the Office. The prayers were concluded with the singing of the lovely hymn, "On this Day O Beautiful Mother."

Monthly Communion
Last Sunday being the second communion day of the Sodality. An unusually large number of girls were present at the seven o'clock mass and received Holy Communion in a body. The large attendance at the mass and communion last Sunday is a healthy sign of the interest which the Sodality is receiving at S. J. A. We hope this interest will continue through the whole year. Remember girls, we promised to make the Sodality of 1931-1932 the best yet seen at S. J. A.

Officers of the Gulf Coast Union to Meet Here Next Wednesday.

The officers of the Coast Union of the Children of Mary will meet at the S. J. A. Memorial Hall next Wednesday evening, October 21st, at 7:30 P. M. This is the first meeting of the Union to be held at S. J. A. and we are glad of this opportunity to welcome our fellow Sodality members from the Coast.

A resolution was passed at the last meeting of the Union Officers to the effect that not only the officers but also the members of the Sodality entertaining the Officers' meeting be allowed to attend that session in order that they might be given a better understanding of Sodality ideas and purposes. Be then ready fellow sodalists so as not to miss the meeting next Wednesday, October 21st at 7:30 P. M. We want to see all of you there.

Everyone has her favorite school. So have I.

I'm sure you'll agree with the choice I've made. This is why—

Our school is situated on the Gulf In good old Bay St. Louis, Where teachers dear abide And administer lessons to us.

The subjects are hard but we're here to learn, How to conquer every trial, The future, we're told will bring our reward, If we're only patient a while.

'Tis a lovely school with a lovelier name, And we're more than satisfied To be able to claim that school as our own, And add to its honor beside.

In this school of which I sing There's time to work and time to play, Then you'll all I am sure agree When I say there's no other school like S. J. A.

New Orleans Mark Is Broken By Girl

Miss Ruth Nichols, recognized as an outstanding aviatrix, flew from Atlanta to New Orleans Tuesday in what is believed by officials of the Wedell-Williams airport to be record time, 2 hours and 45 minutes, for the flight between the two cities.

She landed at Wedell-Williams field at 1:50 p. m. in a monoplane. Miss Nichols hopped off at 2:40 p. m. for Houston, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brown. Mr. Brown is a sportsman and motor boat racer.

Following a short stay in Houston, Miss Nichols will visit her brother at Kelly Field, San Antonio, where she will remain for several days.

Miss Nichols asserted that she attempted unsuccessfully to make a transatlantic flight in an effort to prove that women can duplicate the feats of men in aviation. She declared that she would make another attempt to fly across the ocean next spring.

EDITORIAL HIGH-SPOTS OF THE DAY

A blaze in a cotton warehouse at Galveston last Sunday resulted in a loss of $500,000. Twenty thousand bales of cotton were burned and the warehouse was damaged to the extent of $125,000.

The political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., which have been under investigation by a District of Columbia grand jury for some weeks and his indictment for violation of the corrupt practices law is predicted, according to Washington reports, District Attorney John Wilson, the prosecutor, said the grand jury will make its report to the court "in a week or ten days."

The quality of moonshine liquor dispensed in the upper portion of Mississippi must be of the vilest sort. It puts murder in the hearts of those foolish enough to drink it, as reports come of several slayings in that section directly traceable to its effect on men who imbibed it.

The 1931 World's championship series ended last Saturday and the St. Louis Cardinals deprived the Philadelphia Athletics of the honor of winning their third successive championship.

In 1917 Mississippi produced 84,000,000 bushels of corn but last year produced only 19,000,000 bushels hence it became necessary to purchase more than 50,000,000 bushels from outside the State to meet the actual requirements. It is estimated that from twelve to fifteen million dollars were spent for mixed feeds and oats, all of which could have been produced by our own farmers and this large sum of money kept at home.

Oil and gas experts feel confident that the vicinity of Purvis is very favorable for discovery of such deposits and they are backing their faith by the erection of a 122-foot derrick for the initial test well.

The next governor of Mississippi is an optimist and does not believe that conditions are quite as bad as some folks think. In a speech at the Northeast Mississippi Fair, held at Tupelo last week Mr. Conner is quoted as saying: "What we need in Mississippi is to forget our gloom and misfortunes during these times of depression. Cast aside your gloom and count your blessings." Now that is what The Echo considers good and timely advice and should be heeded by every citizen of the commonwealth. As bad as conditions are and have been, taken as a whole, our people are far better off in every way than those of other sections of the country.

For a long time it has been an accepted belief that it would not be many more decades before the American Indian would be an extinct race. The last census reveals the fact that such is not a fact, as the figures show that there was a 37 per cent increase in their number over the census of 1920, or 29 per cent more than the rate of growth of the population at large. Just another fallacy exploded.

On October 31 an election will be held in Starkville on a proposal for the issuance of bonds to the amount of $102,000 for the installation of a municipal light and power plant. And as the Hattiesburg American says: "The eyes of Mississippi are on Starkville and reports of that election will be eagerly awaited by other communities in the State."

Eight Harrison county men were arrested by United States Marshal J. C. Tyler and Deputy Marshal Sardin George a few days ago on capias charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition law. Among the number was Herman Finhold, the chief of police of Pass Christian. Indictments were returned against the accused by the Federal grand jury in session at Meridian a short time ago. The men were released on bonds of $750 each to appear at the next term of court.

"Cane Juice" is the title of a novel recently issued by Dr. John Early Uhler, professor of English at Louisiana State University, and now its author is out of a job. The book's contents were regarded as a defamation of the Louisiana Creoles, a reflection on L. S. U. co-eds, and "a glorification of materialistic evolution by the University governing board and Dr. Uhler's dismissal as a member of the faculty was ordered."

The Negro janitors at the University in Oxford have lost their jobs and ten or twelve students will take their places in order to obtain money to pay their way through the institution.

At a meeting of the Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League of Mississippi, which was held in Jackson last week, a resolution endorsing Hon. William G. McAdoo as a candidate for president was adopted. We had almost forgotten the existence of Mr. McAdoo, but now recall that he married a daughter of President Woodrow Wilson by whom he was appointed secretary of the treasury.

"Pepper" Martin, hero of the World's Series a few years ago played as a member of several Mississippi teams, and perhaps the experience he gained then accounts for the sensation he created in the great diamond classic at St. Louis and Philadelphia.

The Republican party. Nobody expected him to do otherwise, but he did not announce that fact until it looked as if Herbert's re-nomination was a certainty.

The death of Senator Dwight W. Morrow has removed from the ranks of the Republican party one of its greatest leaders, and the one man who might have caused trouble in securing the re-nomination of President Hoover. He was a man in whom his party had full and unwavering confidence, and his passing at just at the zenith of his usefulness to his country and his party is indeed a matter of deep and sincere regret, shared alike by Democrats as well as Republicans.

A recreational project is being sponsored by the American Legion and every service and civic club of Gulfport, the cost of same being estimated at a half million dollars, which will give work to many men now unemployed, is the latest thing put forward by the enterprising citizens of that city. The project plans include the building of a seawall from East Beach at the Chataqua grounds to a point near the east end of the harbor pier. Behind the seawall the recreation grounds would be built, including a nine-hole golf course, a small crafts harbor, tennis courts, bathing piers, a gymnasium, fresh water swimming pool, a dance pavilion and a landing place for amphibian or other air-water planes. The project has the enthusiastic support of all the public spirited citizens of Gulfport and The Echo would not be in the least surprised that it will be carried out in the near future.

MISSISSIPPI MOTOR TRANSPORT TAXES DECLARED INADEQUATE

State Auditor Says Bus Lines Pay Only $18,000 a Year As Compared with $4,000,000 By The Railroad Lines.

The annual revenue derived from bus lines doing business in Mississippi is only $18,000, State Auditor, Carl C. White declared in a recent statement. Taxpayers of the state pay $7,000,000 for highways, and in addition passenger car owners pay nearly $3,000,000, he pointed out. The railroad companies pay Mississippi nearly $4,000,000 a year in taxes, Mr. White said. The burden among these interested parties is not equally distributed, he declared. The statement follows in full text: "The total bonded indebtedness of the 82 counties of the state, not including the bonded indebtedness of the state as such, amounts to $84,532,298. This does not include the bonded indebtedness of the cities and municipalities of the 82 counties. Of this amount $10,000,000 was issued for the purpose of building highways, gravel roads and concrete roads through these 82 counties. "The interest on this $70,000,000 bonded indebtedness amounts to $3,500,000 a year. These bonds were issued covering a period of 20 years. If one-twentieth of this amount is to be paid each year, it amounts to $175,000. The 82 counties of Mississippi pay $3,500,000 each year making a total of $7,000,000 that the taxpayers of Mississippi are paying for their highways in this state each year.

Amount Is Exclusive.

"The amount does not include the amount being spent each month by the state highway department and by the county highway departments. Excluding what is received from the federal government, or what is received from other sources, other than the excise gasoline tax, an amount varying from $400,000 to $500,000 is being spent each month on the highways. "The railroad companies of Mississippi, in addition to the fact that they have spent millions of dollars in building their lines, they are spending millions of dollars every year maintaining their roads, pay a direct tax to the state of a little less than $4,000,000. And in addition they have thousands of employees in the state of Mississippi, located in all of the cities, towns, and villages along the railroad lines, who are not only taxpayers, but good citizens taking their places in all of the civic and social activities of these various communities. "The bus lines in the state of Mississippi, and I am not talking about school buses, the local communities, but about lines that cross the state and freight lines maintained by the bus companies, have paid taxes in an amount of a little less than $18,000 in Mississippi during this year. They have but little, if any, tangible property that can be taxed by the state. They employ

"Suppose they reach the place where they are unable to make much profit, and I am reliably informed that they are about to reach this point in the career of the railroad companies' business in Mississippi. "They would have to turn the roads over to the federal government and if the federal government operates the roads in any state they do not, of course, pay any taxes. Then the burden of the $4,000,000 taxes

MISSISSIPPI FORESTER SUGGESTS BURNING WOOD FOR FUEL

Cheaper Commodity — Cutting and Delivering Furnishes Cash Crop — Woodlands Need Cutting.

"Burn wood cut from our farm woodlands instead of buying coal shipped into our communities from far away," is a suggestion made by E. Lauderdale, Forester of the Mississippi A. & M. College Extension Service, as a part of our Live-At-Home Program. "Because wood fires may require a little more attention than coal and wood is not quite so easy to handle in large quantities as coal, the heating value of wood is sometimes overlooked by our local industries and public institutions and by our citizens," says Mr. Lauderdale and he gives the following facts relative to the comparative value of wood and coal:

A cord of longleaf pine air-dry and with 20 percent resin is equivalent to more than 1 1/3 tons of soft coal. A cord of hickory has nearly the same heating value. Our various oaks have a fuel value exceeding that of a ton of coal and beech is almost as good. Longleaf pine with 10 percent resin and ash and elm are equal to 9-10 of a ton of coal. If prices are compared it will be evident that well selected and seasoned wood is the cheaper commodity.

Two additional reasons are cited for the use of wood. One is that the farmers of the State can supply the wood and the labor for cutting and delivering it. It can be made an important cash crop and this is a year when every source of cash is needed. Another reason for using wood is that many of our farm woodlands need cutting. The woods are full of defective and undesirable trees which should be cut to give the better trees a chance to grow. There are no better tools to be used in woodland improvement than the axe and the saw properly directed by the men handling them.

North Carolina has seized this opportunity to increase the market for fuel wood by conducting a campaign for its use in the schools and the homes of the State in which the Extension Service and the Department of Education are co-operating. Already the Superintendent of Schools in Guilford County has purchased more than 300 cords of wood for use in the county consolidated schools. Col. Wade Harris in an editorial in the Charlotte Observer calls attention to thousands of cords of wood going to waste within reach of the schools of Mecklenburg county and says that if every child in the State would follow this policy it would mean the consumption of thousands of cords of wood and an increase by tens of thousands of dollars in the purchasing power of North Carolina farmers.

Mr. W. F. Bond, State Superintendent of Education has expressed approval of a campaign for greater use of wood for fuel, as a benefit to our farmers and, for many of the schools of Mississippi, an opportunity to obtain a cheaper fuel, and therefore a move that would be beneficial to the taxpayers.

Illiterate Drivers Are Termed Highway Menace

Declaring that no one who is unable to understand highway warning and direction signs in English should be allowed to drive a motor vehicle, the American Automobile association revealed that the great majority of the states have made no provision to protect the public against the danger accruing from the presence of thousands of complete illiterates on the road.

In spite of the tremendous volume of motor vehicle laws, regulations and ordinances confronting the car owners at every turn, there are now 35 states with a registration of more than 16,000,000 where drivers are not subject to any examination as to their understanding of danger and direction signs.

This is the high light of an exhaustive survey made by the national motor vehicle law, which, among other things, disclosed that those states that do not require the applicant for a permit to distinguish between "Stop" and "Go" have the highest average percentage of illiteracy.

"On the basis of our survey and of our analysis of existing laws, there is no doubt whatever that the time has come when in the interest of national safety on the highways this serious laxity in the requirements for driving privileges must receive attention," Thomas P. Henry of Detroit, Mich., president of the American Automobile association declared.

Fleeing Honors

Asylum Patient (to new appointee)—who are you?
Appointee—I am the new superintendent.

Patient—Oh, it won't take them long to knock that out of you. I was Napoleon when I came here—By-stander.

that the railroad companies are now paying in Mississippi what has to be paid by the taxpayers of Mississippi. In other words, the property owners would have to pay in addition to the taxes they are now paying more than they are called to pay at the present time.

"In conclusion this is a three cornered affair. Mississippi taxpayers are forced to invest in their roads each year the sum of $7,000,000; the railroad companies, the sum of $3,500,000; with, of course, whatever interest on their investments in the state is to be added to the $18,000. Do these figures strike you as being fair to all parties interested? I dare say that you join with the masses of the people in saying the taxes among these three interested parties are not equally distributed."

AMENDMENT OF STOCK LAW INTRO- DUCED BY R. L. GENIN

A bill has been introduced by Hancock county's representative, in the Lower House, Hon. Robert L. Genin, to amend the present stock law, disjunct from Jackson under date of October 7, making the following reference to the same:

"R. L. Genin of Bay St. Louis, today introduced a bill to change the state stock law to allow county option, and tomorrow another bill signed by most of the pine-woods members will be proposed. Under the plan the present law will be amended so that twenty per cent of the qualified electors of a county residing outside the municipalities may petition the board of supervisors to call an election to determine if the majority of the voters of the area want to come from under the operation of the stock law. Should a majority of the voters favor abrogating stock law, they may permit all their stock except hogs to graze on unfenced lands, but in doing so they must protect the property and lands of adjacent areas, wherein the residents do not desire the open range, where adjoining counties differ on the law. The section favoring the open range must build separating fences to protect the stock law county, and in addition, certain conditions so as to not jeopardize the dipping law to be written into the bill. Members from the pine woods sections have agreed on most of the provisions of the bill and before it is considered by the committee on agriculture expect to caucus and plan a course of action to secure passage of the bill by the Legislature. They expect to impress on the representatives from other sections that the present extraordinary session was called primarily for affording relief to farmers whose cash crops were affected by the live stock market conditions, and the open range represents the principal cash crops of South Mississippi sections. The large vote that cotton legislation received from members of the non-cotton growing counties in South Mississippi was due principally to a desire to make the farm relief legislation a general policy applicable to all sections."

Life Is Like That.

Man comes into this world without his consent, and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his old age he is a fool; if he raises a family he is a chump; if he checks he is a thief, and the law raises Cain with him; if he is a poor man he is a poor manager and has no sense; if he is a rich man he is dishonest, but considered smart; if he is in politics he is a grafter and crooked; if he is out of politics you can't place him, as he is an 'undesirable citizen'; if he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church he is a sinner; if he consents to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he's stingy and a lightwad. When he first comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; before he goes out they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a great future before him; if he lives to a ripe old age he is in the way—only living to save funeral expenses.—Exchange.

From a Japanese boy's essay on Washington: "George Washington was sore because American persons was not free. He say to king, 'I press devariations of independence.' King he say 'noting' doin' and Mr. Washington to shoot big guns at him. Bimeby king he say he will not run over American persons again. 'Let Washington do it,' he say, and so today American persons she is free."

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned"

THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be.

There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring.

"I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago.

"In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay."

When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it. After thousands of miles of driving you will say "It's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars.

Civil Service Applicants Anxious to Learn Ratings

The Civic Service Commission stated today that a considerable number of persons who competed in the file clerk examination held throughout the country in the latter part of August are already making inquiry regarding their ratings. Officials explained that this was the largest civil service examination ever held, approximately 29,000 persons being examined. Because of the large number of applicants in this examination and because of the volume of the work of the Civil Service Commission at this time, it was estimated that it will be at least two or three months before reports of ratings will be ready. It was pointed out that 8,500 persons competed in the statistical clerk examination held on September 9. It will be approximately two or three months, it was said, before ratings of this examination can be mailed to competitors. The Commission has instructed its examinees throughout the country to request competitors for Government positions not to make premature inquiries about their ratings inasmuch as such inquiries increase the volume of the work. Rating reports are made in every instance as soon as possible.

Who Is The Loser?

Who is the loser? An exchange from the West tells about a man who found a $10 bill in the weeds. He gave it to B. in payment of a debt, who passed it on to C. to be credited on his account. Then it went on to D., and on clear through to Z., until $260 had been paid on all the accounts. The $10 bill was paid back by Z. to A., who took it to the bank for deposit. The cashier of the bank looked at the bill, said it was a counterfeit, and tore it up. Now, boys and girls, how about it? Were these debts paid? Was anybody loser?

CURRENT COMMENT

PRESIDENT HINDENBURG PASSES 84TH BIRTHDAY.

President Hindenburg of Germany has just passed his eighty-fourth birthday, and is an exception to Dr. Osler's much-debated rule that a man is done for at forty. In 1927, when Mr. Hindenburg was verging upon three score and ten, he had energy enough to make things uncomfortable for a large portion of the civilized world, and what has happened since the armistice, indicates that he has sufficient vigor to take knocks, as well as give them.

TREASURY RECEIPTS SHOW FALLING OFF.

The Treasury receipts show a falling off during the past three months. Apparently, not everyone came up to the standard set by the farmers in the territory affected by the drought of last year. Despite hard times and a poor market, they managed to repay, before it was due, more than a million dollars of the money which the Government loaned them.

DRIVES A NAIL IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

A medical journal drives a nail in the right place when it says that the world is tooth-conscious but not eye-conscious, and that the organs of sight deserve as much attention as the grinders. Teeth announce their woes in terms anyone can understand. The eye is long-suffering generally keeping its troubles to itself, but quietly retiring from business meanwhile; which is all the more reason why it should be closely watched. Few persons attend to their eyes as carefully as they watch the pressure in their auto tires, nor are they likely to do so until the oculist, like the garage man, is willing to send the customer away happy in return for a twenty-five cent tip.

DEATH BRINGS FORTH EXPRESSIONS OF SORROW.

Sir Thomas Lipton, genial sailor and good sportsman, has weighed anchor and put out to sea for the last time. All over the land from which he tried so many times to carry the international yachting trophy, his death will bring forth nothing but expressions of sorrow. It was well that we did not lose any of the races for which Sir Thomas was responsible, but if Fate had decreed that we should lose, the bitterness of defeat would have been tempered by the collection that so fair and friendly an opponent had won.

AMERICAN ENGINEER GETS PRIZE IN RUSSIA.

The Soviet organization gives a substantial prize to an American engineer who speeds up mine production in Russia. It would be interesting to know whether the Soviet government, then officially the friend of the man toiling under ground, has labored for his sake with the same zeal that it has shown in getting more work out of him. The suggestions of the American Bureau of Mines for cutting down the mortality and injury rates among miners, probably would be rejected as part of a capitalistic scheme, inconsistent with the Five Year Plan.

MR. EDISON GRADUALLY LOSING GROUND.

Mr. Edison, seriously sick, is gradually losing ground. Considering his age, it is hard to tell what may happen before the date that this is in print. By that time, he may have progressed to a point where all physical strength ceases, but as a benefactor of mankind, he will remain forever a tower of strength, against the assaults of sickness, and even death itself, will be utterly impotent.

A GOOD DEED IS NEVER LOST.

Horse troughs strung across Long Island under the terms of the will of a lover of animals, are not used, because there are no horses to drink from them. At least, they serve as reservoirs from which auto radiators can be filled. A good deed is never lost.

15,000 HEAT UNITS

PER POUND OF BRILLIANT COAL

CHEMISTS measure the heat value of coal in "British Thermal Units" (B.T.U.). The number of B.T.U. per pound determines how hot a fire any coal can make. Ordinary coal averages about 12,500 B.T.U. per pound. Brilliant Coal averages about 15,000 B.T.U. per pound. That's why Brilliant makes the hottest fire: Brilliant has the highest heat value of practically any coal produced. Ignites quickly; burns brilliantly to a finish—leaving only 2% ash. Pass Christian Chamber Of Commerce Elects Officers For Coming Year

At the annual election of officers of the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce, held last Tuesday evening, all the present officers and directors were re-elected for the ensuing year, namely:

E. J. Adam, President.
Edgar Bohn, Vice-President.
Frank Wittmann, Guy Northrop,
Joseph Hayden and Bernard Knost, directors.

Miss Myrtle Spence, the present efficient and courteous secretary was re-appointed for another year.

A brief review of the past year's work of the Chamber of Commerce was presented by the secretary. It contained many items of interest in which the Chamber had taken part.

The membership report showed that there are 104 members in good standing, the largest in the history of the organization.

—Hon. Robert L. Genin spent the past week-end here. He informed The Echo that he has hopes of much needed legislation being enacted during the present extraordinary session of the State's lawmakers, despite the fact that some of the members are inclined to keep alive the fires of factionalism.

—Mrs. Leroy Gallasy of Wichita Falls, Kan., and Mrs. Jack Kane of New Orleans, have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cuevas of Fenton. Mrs. Gallasy the former Miss Lottie Cuevas, returned home Thursday and Mrs. Kane the former Miss Jessie Cuevas, returned home last Sunday.

—It is a great pity our visitors are all gone for the golden month of October, the best time of the year on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Many would no doubt remain if it were not for the call of schools back in the big city and the fact business for the winter opens. However, we who live here permanently never fail to appreciate October.

—Mr. G. Y. Blaize resident representative of the Postal Telegraph Company, accompanied by Mr. L. H. Dinkeldin, of the same company at New Orleans, left a few days ago by motor for a week's stay at Hot Springs, Ark., where they are taking the famous hot baths. The Postal's business is capably represented by Mrs. Blaize during her husband's absence.

—A party composed of Miss Delia McConnell, Mrs. B. F. Miller and Bobby Pollard will motor to Meridian this week-end to visit Mrs. Miller's brother, Prof. Luther Summer. The birthday of Mr. Summer falls on October 14 and that of Mrs. Miller on October 16 and they will have a joint celebration. Prof. Summer has been blind for some three years one eye having been lost following an operation.

While attending the Confederate Veterans reunion in Montgomery this summer, Summer underwent an operation in Montgomery which has caused him to gain the sight of the other eye.

—Repeat of the stock law, or rather amendment of the same—will be most welcome to cattle and sheep owners in the rural sections of Hancock county. There are many thousands of acres of cut-over land throughout the county on which many herds of cattle and flocks of sheep can be pastured, and The Echo knows that if even a minimum of care and attention is given the same, Hancock county will soon become the center of the cattle and sheep raising industry of Mississippi.

Thousands of dollars were spent to rid the county of the tick pest and with little effort on the part of the owners, they can and should, make this county famous as a cattle and sheep raising section.

—Nanking accepts Japan's pledges to withdraw her troops.

—Beef cattle at top price for this year despite big receipts.

—Hale defies Hoover and will fight to build up navy.

—Farm board to sell wheat and cotton for needy.

—Living costs down 15 per cent, payrolls 40 per cent since 1925.

—Income tax collections fell $231,000,000 in September.

—Green calls for drastic taxation if wage cuts continue.

—Sir Thomas Lipton dies in London after a week's illness.

—Baruch advocates inter-state control of cotton production.

—Grange executive committee opposes legalizing beer.

—August factory work was 12 per cent below last year.

—Income of railroads down 40 per cent in August.

"SPIDER" UNUSUAL DRAMA COMING TO A. & G. SUN. & MON.

Spine-Tingling Adventures
In Fox Film Featuring
Lowe and Moran

An exciting adventure running the gamut of mystery thrills will be unfolded at the A. & G. Theatre, Sunday and Monday of this week when "The Spider," unusual melodrama of unexplainable murder, will be shown.

Students of the newer modes in mystery fiction—whether on the stage screen or in literature—will find every element dear to their hearts in this elaborate Fox version of Fulton Oursler's and Lowell Brentano's famous stage play.

A murder is committed in the audience during a magician's presentation of his program and police officials and detectives crowd the stage. All exits are guarded and every member of the audience is under technical arrest while police attempt to solve the mystery. The unraveling of the puzzle by means of a spiritualistic seance and other magical wonders provide a thrilling closeup of criminology never before presented on the screen.

Edmund Lowe in the leading role of Chattrand the Great is the outstanding feature of the picture, and his performance will undoubtedly win him new praise. Lois Moran, in the feminine lead, stood out prominently, while El Brendel, as chief comedian, Howard Phillips as Love's psychic assistant, and George E. Stone, as the doctor, also give excellent portrayals.

William Cameron Menzies and Kenneth MacKenna co-directed.

Walks Seventeen Miles Rather Than Miss His School Classes

The mere matter of missing a train did not prevent William Cunningham from attending school last Monday. Rather than do this, the boy walked from English Lookout to Bay St. Louis, distance of seventeen miles, and was on time for his first class.

William is a Freshman at St. Stanislaus, but is a little older than the rest of his class, having been out of school two years. Probably that is the reason why he really appreciates the value of an education; at any rate he certainly demonstrated conclusively his belief in school by his commendable action on Monday morning. Ordinarily he arrives on the six o'clock train, but Monday he arose just a little too late to catch the train, and decided that a walk was better than a miss.

On his arrival, Brother Peter asked William why he had not remained at home after missing the train. "I just didn't want to be absent from school," was his modest reply. Incidentally, he took his seventeen mile jaunt on an empty stomach, his custom being to take breakfast at the college.

IN MISSISSIPPI
By EDGAR S. WILSON
Jackson, Miss., Oct. 9.—The Sea Coast Echo, commenting upon the statement of the Kosciusko Star-Heald that nearly 2,000 more voted in Attala county than paid poll taxes in the recent primary, says that "if this is true, it looks to us that an investigation by the Attala county grand jury is in order." It seems to be a lamentable fact that many names are on the poll books in a majority of the counties of the state who either defaulted for poll tax, died or removed, and that the only way to purge poll books of others than qualified electors is to have new registration.

It is wholly impossible for the three county election commissioners of the counties of the state, especially those in the larger counties, to perform the duty required of them by law within 10 days. To allow "2,000 or more poll tax delinquents" to participate in any county primary which the Star-Herald of Kosciusko, a most reputable paper, calls attention to, is to practically turn the nominations in such counties for state, county and beat officers to those who are not qualified electors, and allow them to make the nominations as against the votes of the qualified electors who pay their taxes as required by the constitution and qualify themselves to vote.

Where Creditors Are Not
"I like to take a jaunt in the country," remarked a city man who is up to his neck in debt. "I love to stroll along past quiet country meadows. You know you can't owe money to a cow."

"Oh, Dickie, I've been stung by a wasp." "Quick, put some ammonia on it." "I can't, it's gone."

The things that are most plentiful are usually the most difficult to keep the family interested in. Apples are grown practically everywhere and are less expensive than some of the fruits right now. They are considered an efficient health asset and they help to keep the body in good running order. The following recipes will assist you in serving apples often.

Fried apples are delicious for breakfast served with crisp bacon sausage. Core and slice with the skin on and cook in a little melted butter.

Equal portions of apples and cranberries which have been run through the meat grinder, sweetened and chilled make an unusual dessert served with whipped cream.

Apple Duff Pudding
Two cups of flour, one cup-milk, one egg, two teaspoons of baking powder, two tablespoons melted shortening, salt. Mix into batter and add three cups of sliced apples. Put into greased pudding mold, steam two hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Apple Pudding
Stew and sweeten eight large apples. Flavor with cinnamon and nutmeg. Make a boiled custard, using two cups of milk, two egg yolks and one-half cup of sugar. Pour over stewed apples. Beat egg whites stiff, add three tablespoons
